NEW GEAR PREVIEW

Hunter Safety System

Pro Series Vest

Hunter Safety System (877-296-3528; www.huntersafetysystem.com) has redesigned its Pro Series vest ($135). The new vest is slimmer and more form fitting; 25 percent lighter and its cooling mesh ventilation is bolstered with elastic binding for increased comfort. The redesign features 8 large pockets and elastic binocular/rangefinder straps on each shoulder to keep optics accessible yet away from a hunter's shot. Also rubber coated quick-snap buckles, saddle-like style for stress reduction to key points across the thighs, legs and hips. Break-away stitching in the longer tether acts as a shock absorber in the event of a fall.

Large Size Pro Series Vests

The company is also making Pro Series safety harness available in 4XL-5XL size for individuals weighing up to 400 pounds! Available in Realtree hardwoods green, the harness ($200) uses a tough mesh material to allow airflow, providing relief on warm days. Pro Series harnesses have repositioned saddle style leg straps to distribute weight evenly across the body and legs eliminating unnecessary pressure. Ample pockets for storage and lightweight quick-snap buckles large enough to handle with gloves.

□ NORWAY
Fusion Vanes

Norway Industries

Fusion Vanes

Short, new 2-inch long Fusion vanes from Norway Industries (800-778-4755; www.duravanes.com) are designed to improve broadhead flight. Vane profile is similar to a traditional shield cut, increasing surface area at the most critical point, while minimizing wind interference. The vane's blade employs a stiffer polymer structure with a distinct texture and a slight taper, base to top, decreasing mass weight while increasing stabilization and vane durability. The vane's base is a softer polymer that allows the vane to react to contact or crushing more like a traditional feather, but with the resilience and weatherproof capabilities of a vane.

GamePlan Gear

CameraMan Pack

The new CameraMan Pack from GamePlan Gear (877-544-6611; www.gameplangear.com) takes the hassles out of filming in the field by combining the features of a professional camera case with the durable convenience of a backpack. Included are fully-customizable interior foam dividers, mesh interior organizers, and adjustable hipbelt, sternum and shoulder straps designed to carry heavy loads easily.

The innovative "drop-down" format provides complete access to filming gear—including large professional cameras and arms, batteries, tapes and cords, with extra room for clothes and other accessories. The 24-inch height fits into an airline overhead compartment; included is a pull-out "storm cover" for downpour protection.
