and vibration-dampened. The VaneTec Vmax HP is a high-profile, 2-inch vane that offers instant, trouble-free bonding and long life. It sports a narrow base and is offered in 13 different colors. For more information, see your dealer, log onto vanetec.com or call (541) 572-5250.

Slip-and-Dip Short Fletching

Have you thought about converting your older hunting arrows to shorter fletching but were concerned about the mess, the fuss and the expense? Two companies—New Archery Products and Extreme Archery—now offer a practical and amazingly easy, slip-and-dip alternative.

If you can boil water, you can convert those old arrows with New Archery Product's QuikFletch. Just strip off the old vanes and glue, slip QuikFletch over the cleaned shafts, dunk them in the hot water and watch as the QuikFletch tube shrink-bonds to the shaft, leaving behind a professional-looking fletching job with either NAP QuikSpin ST Speed Hunter vanes or NAP Twister vanes. For more information, see your dealer, log onto newarchery.com or call (800) 323-1279.

Extreme Archery's Shrink Fletch works in exactly the same manner, but with pioneering Bohning Blazer vanes. Extreme Shrink Fletch is available in a variety of solid Blazer colors, tiger-stripe Blazer presentations and even with Team Realtree Camo Blazer vanes. All you need to complete the job is a knife to strip off all the old vanes and glue, and a tall glass of hot water. For more information, see your dealer, log onto extremearchery.com or call (606) 928-9447.

The Big Switch

For many bowhunters, the big switch to shorter fletching has occurred quickly. Two-inch vanes or feathers make tuning easy, may actually improve arrow flight, typically stabilize broadheads wonderfully and look about as high-tech cool as you can get.

Not that long ago, everyone preferred longer fletching on hunting arrows. Today, understandably, less is more. 🏹
